

Thomas Merton and the Undercommons by Dr. Carolyn Medine.

February 23rd, 2026 ~ 7 pm

Hilary's,
Centro, Treece Hall,
Bellarmino University

Free & Open to the Public

For further information contact:
502 272 8177 / 8187

Dr. Carolyn Medine is the inaugural All Shall Be Well Professor in Religion and the Director of the Institute for African American Studies at the University of Georgia. Her research interests are in Arts and Literature, particularly Southern and African American women's religious experience. She has written extensively on Toni Morrison, Harper Lee, and others. She is a graduate of the University of Virginia and teaches courses on Religion and Literature, African American Religions and Literatures, Religious Theory and Thought, and Women's Spirituality and Writings.

Thomas Merton Center
www.merton.org

Sponsored by: Campus Ministry; The Carver Center;
Theology Department; and Louisville ITMS Chapter