

Uncovering a Hidden Wholeness: The Essence of Unity & Thomas Merton's Hope for the Human Race

by Sophfronia Scott

February 22nd, 2022 ~ 7 pm

Frazier Hall,
Bellarmine University

Free & Open to the Public

Socially-distanced
~ Masks Required

For further information contact:
502 272 8177 / 8187

Sophfronia Scott began her career as an award-winning magazine journalist for Time. Her first novel, All I Need to Get By, was nominated for best new author at the African American Literary Awards. She is the author of Unforgivable Love, Love's Long Line, This Child of Faith: Raising a Spiritual Child in a Secular World, and The Seeker and the Monk: Everyday Conversations with Thomas Merton. (Broadleaf Books, 2021) She is the founding director of the MFA in Creative Writing program at Alma College in Michigan.

Thomas Merton Center
www.merton.org

Sponsored by: Campus Ministry; The Office of Identity and Inclusion; Theology Department; and Louisville ITMS Chapter