

THE MERTON SEASONAL

of Bellarmine College

Winter 1976

What you see before you now represents the most modest of all possible beginnings. The Thomas Merton Studies Center of Bellarmine College proposes to use this news quarterly to inform the friends and followers of Thomas Merton's thought and concerns of the activities and researches carried out in his name. The "Seasonal" (a carefully chosen word) will present news of upcoming programs of the Bellarmine Merton Center and an update on research going on in our own Merton Collection. Additionally, as word of the Season gets around, we hope to become more and more a clearing center for word of Merton activities throughout the country.
